Bio

Kelly Tonn, known as Kelly Songwriter, is an indie pop singer-songwriter whose music finds meaning in everyday moments and relationships. Honest lyrics and melodic songwriting sit at the heart of Kelly's work, turning familiar experiences into songs that feel personal and relatable. Under the tagline 'Write. Sing. Promote.', Kelly brings that same creative focus to both original releases and professional projects.

Tracks such as 'Loud in the Kitchen', 'Didn't Wait' and 'Send the Number' introduce listeners to Kelly's songwriting. The new release 'Your Hoodie, My Door' passed 100 plays within its first week on SoundCloud, marking another step in a listener base growing one song at a time.

Alongside releasing original music, Kelly works with artists and brands who need fresh lyrics, a polished voice on a track, or help getting their music heard. Songwriting services range from original lyrics to melody and topline writing with a simple voice demo. Vocal services cover lead vocals, backing vocals and harmonies, while promotion packages bring a release to social media through planned posts, captions and hashtag strategy.

Every project is handled personally, with clear pricing, fast turnaround and defined scope. Songwriting and vocal packages include room for revisions, so the work can develop around the client's vision. Whether the starting point is an idea, an instrumental or a finished release, Kelly's focus remains the same: words, voice and connection. For bookings, contact kellysongwriter@gmail.com.
